Henrico Chief of Police Eric D. English Provides a Message Regarding Future County Events

(Henrico County, Va.) – In light of the recent incidents involving disorderly conduct and unsupervised groups of juveniles at family friendly county-sponsored events, I want to address our community directly. While the vast majority of attendees come to enjoy these events peacefully, a small number of individuals have created unsafe situations that cannot be ignored.

To ensure the safety and wellbeing of everyone who attends our public gatherings, Henrico Police will be working closely with our county partners to implement new safety measures at future events.

Our goal is simple: to provide a safe, welcoming environment for all residents and visitors. Unfortunately, the actions of a few have made these steps necessary, but the safety and enjoyment of these events for our community remains our highest priority.

We appreciate your understanding, your cooperation, and your ongoing support as we work together to keep Henrico County safe.
