

Land Lovers

SERIES

Presented in partnership with
Keep Henrico Beautiful

Composting with NOPE

Sat., February 22
11 AM at Tuckahoe

Ryan Owenby of the NOPE Compost Company presents composting as a practical and environmentally friendly way of handling yard and kitchen waste and improving soil conditions in your garden. 60 min.

Propagating Native Plants

Wed., March 26
6 PM at Gayton

Brad Davis from Davis Natives will demonstrate techniques for growing natives from seed and cuttings and discuss how to support local wildlife with ecosystem-friendly plantings. 60 min.

Dragons and Damsels, Oh My!

Fri., April 18
2 PM at Tuckahoe

One of the most diverse Odonata (dragonfly and damselfly) populations in all of North America reside in Virginia. Master Naturalist Cindy Andrews educates on how to identify our local species and provides resources on life cycles, physical adaptations, roles in the ecosystem, and preservation strategies. 60 min.

See our online calendar for other upcoming events.

henricolibrary.org/calendar

